STANDARD MINE HAS CREW MEN WORKING

The Standard mine at Downieville was recently taken over by Los Angeles mining men and is now known as the Sierra Standard Mining Company. This company purchased the property last fall and part of the supplies were taken in, but the stormy weather prevented them completing their plans.

The property is three and one half miles from Downieville. It is on the famous slate and serpentine contact which runs through the Alleghany district. The mine is not far from the Twin Sicter mine.

The road to the mine was broken through last week so that a truck could make the trip. Three feet of snow is on the ground at the present time.

This is a quartz property and they have a 500 foot tunnel on the property. There are two main ledges and drifting is being done on these.

Crushing of ore has been started at the property.

O. C. Phares is superintendent of the Standard mine.

Newtown Road Widened—

Supervisor Frank of the 4th district and crew of men are engaged in widening the road to Newton between Deer Creek and the Newtown section The improvements will be appreciated by those traveling to and from Newtown, Bridgeport and French Corral.

Renamed Probation Officer—

A W. McGagin of Grass Valley was renamed as probation officer Friday, for the coming four years, by Judge Raglan Tuttle. His appointment was recommended by the Nevada county probation committee. Mr. McGagin, who has held the office for several years has proved to be efficient and faithful in his duties.

DE GOLIA NFW HEAD OF CALIF. TRIPLE A'S

E B. DeGolia, San Francisco business man and civic leader, is the new president of the California State Automobile Association, elected by the Board of Directors of the motorists' organization, it was announced, to succeed to the unexpired term of the late R. I. Bentley. The board at the same time elected John R. Graham of Merced as first vice president Francis Carr of Redding, second vice president; and Joseph R. Knowland of Oakland, third vice president. Frank P. Doyle, banker of Santa Rosa, was elected as a new member of the board.

DeGolia assumes the leadership of 85,000 organized motorists of northern and central California after a number of years of active service as a member of the association boarn. He is a member of the San Francisco City Planning Commission, chairman of the Citizens City Budget Committee of San Francisco, and chairman of the Property Owners Division of the San Francisco Real Estate Board DeGolia is vice president of Marsh & McLennan-J. B. F. Davis & Son, Ltd, of San Francisco and a member of the Board of directors of the Charles R. McCormick lumber company.

Joseph R. Knowland, publisher of the Oakland Tribune and formerly a representative in congress from California for several terms, becomes a member of the group of Association vice presidents after serving as a director since 1927 John R. Graham and Francis Carr, who advance in rank as vice presidents, are also veteran members of the board. Graham is a native of San Francisco who has been engaged in business in Merced since 1891. Carr is an attorney of Redding and a member of the California Water Resources Commission.

Frank P. Doyle, new association director, is also treasurer and a director of the Redwood Empire Association, a member of the directorate of the Golden Gate bridge and highway district, and a member of the State Farm Bureau.

The Automobile Association board is composed of men of affairs and civic leaders from various sections who serve without compensation.

EMPRESS MINE NOW ON RUNNING THREE SHIFTS

The Empress mine at Newtown, which is west of Nevada City is now milling seventy-five ton of ore a day and the management reports satisfactory cleanups. The strike which definitely established the Empress mine as of large productive interest was made on Christmas eve, 1931.

The mill is now going on a twenty four hour a day run, with ten stamps and a ball mill being used. Recovery processes are based on flotation with loss in tailings reduced to 40 cents per ton.

The Empress ledge is exceptionally wide, as demonstrated on both the 250 and 400 levels. Drifting has been accomplished both north and south with the length of the pay shoot still undetermined.

The Empress mine is the newest producing mine in the Nevada county field, and it is felt that a great future is in store for this property. They have a large enough acreage to mine for a number of years.

E. C. Jacobs is in active charge as manager. J. D. Kneen of Santa Cruz, president of the company, is spending considerable time at the property.

COMPLETE OFFICIAL RECORD

A new official record of production has just been completed by a cow in the herd of Harry B. Cox of Grass Valley, which entitles her to entry in the Advanced Register of the American Guernsey Cattle Club, Peterboro, N. H. This animal is four year old Alma's Crescenda of Few Acres 213838 with a production of 9408.3 pounds of milk and 465.4 pounds of fat in class BBB.

FLOWERS IN BLOSSOM ARE BEAUTIFUL SIGHT

In Nevda county the wild flowers will soon be in their glory. The pretty manzanita blossoms are out and dog woods will soon be turning to white. The redbud is pretty on the road to Auburn. Down in the French Corral and Smartsville sections the buttercups, Johnny jump-ups, and many other varieties are just about at their prettiest.

In a few weeks the Scotch broom and wild birch will be a beautiful sight in the section around Nevada City.

Thousands of acres of orchards in bloom and miles of fields decked with wildflowers now lend a new attraction to motoring in California. Reports received by the Touring Bureau of the California State Automobile Association from all parts of the state indicate that the seasonal display of blossoms and wildflowers is at its best or approaching its peak. The colorful spectacle is expected to attain a climax of profusion and variety this week.

Wildflower and blossom festivals are taking a place on the calendar and thousands of motorists are making trips into the country-side to enjoy the beauty offered by blooming fields and orchards.

In the Santa Clara valley fruit blossoms are well out and with favorable weather the annual blossom festival at Saratoga on Saturday (March 26) promises to attract a record throng.

In the Napa area peach, cherry, and plum trees are in full bloom. Along Putah Creek between Montecello and Winters and also from Knoxville north red buds are blooming. Wildflowers are now abundant all through the Napa valley.

Apricot and peach blossoms are to be found in the Stockton district.

Continuance of warm weather will bring the blossoms in the Santa Rosa region and throughout Sonoma county into full bloom.

In the great peach-growing area around Chico and Marysville they are about at their best.

Wildflowers, including poppies, lupin, wild heliotrope, mustard, and many other varieties present wide vistas of color along San Joaquin valley roads and in other sections. At Kirvin, in Kern county, the annual wild flower festival will be held on Easter Sunday.

NEWMONT COMPANY PREPARING MURCHIE MINE TO GO ON HEAVIER PRODUCTION IN NEAR FUTURE; TO HAVE SAFETY FEATURES

Out at the Murchie mine many changes are taking place and we have gathered from several sources this information and regard it as authentic.

The head frame has been remodeled and braced, and the old Independence shaft has been re-opened and is now connected up with the various levels in such a way that the miners have a second exit all the way from the 1300 level to the surface, in case of accident to the main shaft.

More transformers are now being installed in order to afford more power for mine operations.

A new eight inch water column is to be installed together with new pumps so as to take care of a greater flow of water in case it is met with in the mine.

The main working shaft is being put in much better shape throughout and it is understood that it will be sunk to a greater depth to open up at least two more levels.

In other words the Newmont Company is now engaged in putting the old Murchie mine in such shape that when operations are once commenced they can be continuous.

It is quite a well known fact that Mr. McCraney, the former superintendent, was hampered by a lack of finances so that he was unable to do the things that are now being done by the present owners.

Eventually great benefits will accrue to the Nevada City district by reason of the fact that the Newmont Company is financially able to spend the money necessary to put the Murchie mine in first class shape for mining the ore economically and at the same time increasing the ore production.

The Murchie mine was purchased by the Newmont Company during the winter with the final papers being signed about January first of this year.

NEW CREW HIRED AT BRUSH CREEK MINE

A reduction of a dollar a day was made in the wages of the men employed at the Brush Creek mine, which resulted in all the men quitting.

Those in charge came to Nevada City and quickly employed other men to take the work. Within 24 hours a crew of men were at the mine.

The old scale of wages was $5.50 to $6. a day.

Hoisting of ore is being done from the 400 level of the property and the mill is working on good ore.

FISH AND GAME NOTES ON NATIONAL FORESTS

An airplane was used on the Inyo natianal forest to transport small fish from state hatcheries to new homes in the streams of the the high Sierra. Forest rangers report that the small fry arrived in fine condition.

Predatory ants are blamed for the destruction of young quail, according to a report from the Tahoe national forests. Ants sometimes attack the quail chicks immediately after they are hatched and consume them completely, even polishing the bones.

Three does with horns paid the penalty of their masculine disguise during the past hunting season. One was killed on the Sequoia natianal forest and two on the Modoc national forest, according to reports from the forest supervisors.

ARTHUR FOOTE RECEIVES COMMISSION, TAX BOARD

Arthur B. Foote, mining engineer and mine operator of Grass Valley, has been appointed to represent the Mining Association of California before the tax research bureau of the State Board of Equalization.

Mr. Foote is an economist of note, particularly in relation to the mining industry.

GOOD PROGRESS BEING MADE BY MITCHELL

The United Staff mine recently started by M. C. Mitchell has installed a new compressor and hoisting plant for further development work on the property.

The double compartment shaft to date is 35 feet deep and indications are excellent for a real gold producer.

Mr. Mitchell recently leased this property from James Brothers and it is south of Grass Valley in a good gold producing district.

There are 380 acres in the property.

HENRY J. KLENZENDORF PASSES TO BEYOND

Henry J. Klenzendorf, who has resided in the Camptonville section for more than seventy years, died at the Nevada City Sanitarium Saturday evening. Death was due to the infirmities of old age. He had been in the sanitarium about a week receiving treatment.

Mr. Klenzendorf was born on the 23rd of March, 1846, in Germany and came to the United States when a boy of sixteen years of age. He came to California by way of the Isthmus of Panama, arriving in San Francisco and going on to Foster's Bar, Yuba county, which is now the site of Bullards Bar dam.

He worked in various capacities in that section, mining, working in a sawmill and lumbering. For the last 35 years he had been an employee of the P. G. & E. Co, and its predecessor, the Bay Counties Power company.

Mr. Klenzendorf was honored and respected by the people of the section where the active years of his life were spent, and he passed to his reward leaving a memory and heritage that will be cherished by his family and his many friends.

Left to mourn his passing are his widow, Mrs. Lilie Kessler Klenzendorf, and two sons, Peter and Frank, and a grandson, Vernon Klenzendorf.

Holmes Funeral Home had charge of arrangments. Rev. H. H. Buckner conducted the services at Camptonville Tuesday afternoon.

Pall bearers were Peter Butz, Frank S Reader, Chester Merriam, C. Royat, H. Foulk and G. Calvin

TRUSTEES FILE PAPERS

Friends requested the filing of the papers of the three city trustees for reelection and they were placed on file Monday, just a short time before the time expired for filing. The trustees are Wade Armstrong, C. R. Murchie and A. Seaman, whose terms are about to expire. These trustees have given such satisfaction that no one appeared against them. The election will be held on Monday, April 11th.

GEORGE NIGHTENGALE MEETS TRAGIC DEATH

George Nightengale, superintendent of the Kirkpatrick mine near Goodyears Bar met with almost instant and a tragic death Wednesday forenoon when it is thought that his foot became caught in the belt of the compressor while he was oiling the machinry. His head struck timbers in the vicinity of the machine, crushing his skull. His body became jammed in the machinery and stopped the compressor.

Ronaldo Dineri ,who was employed at the mine was working in the incline shaft, and when he attempted to start the car with a load of earth it would not move. After repeated signals he went to the top where he found the body. Mr. Daneri summoned the other employee at the mine and removed the mangled body from the machinery. He notified officers at Downieville and the body was taken there.

Stanley Mitchell of the Holmes Funeral Home of Nevada City went to Downieville and returned with the body that evening. It was prepared for burial and shipped to San Francisco Thursday, where burial will take place.

Mr. Nightengale was a native of California, aged 60 years. It is stated that he is survived by a widow, a son, and two daughters.

He has been engaged in mining for many years, having spent a number of years in Alaskan gold fields and other countries.

Last fall he bonded the Scott Brothers gravel property near Downieville and was developing the the large gravel deposits known to exist there.

Mr. Nightengale has been employed as superintendent of the Kirkpatrick mine for some time. It is a gravel property, which was operated for a number of years by J. C. Connelly.

About two years ago State Treasurer Gus Johnson and several others took over the mine and have operated it. Lack of water last year curtailed development.

TO BEGIN WORK IN THE RISING HOPE MINE

P. C. Alexander has completed negotiations for taking over the Rising Hope mine from John Orr and associates. Alexander is the head of a group of mine investors and operators of southern California, and announced plans for beginning work on the property.

A small crew of men has already been put to work on the property; and more men will be employed as rapidly as the property can be gotten ready for expansion and development. At the present time efforts are being directed toward clearing away debris and cleaning the property up, but production, will start in the near future according to Mr. Alexander.

Under the operation of Dillon and Orr, present owners of the property the 2000-foot tunnel was opened and cleaned out, new tracks laid thruout the mill overhauled and improved and an electric hoist installed. Alexander and his associates are taking advantage of that preliminary and expensive work will shortly undertake further exploration of the unknown sections of the property, it has been announced. They are confident of the existence of pay gravel in sufficient quantities to make profitable operation possible.

Under the direction of S. N. Warren of New York City, the Rising Hope was a profitable producer in the pre-war days, being closed down when costs mounted to such an extent that showing a profit was impossible. At present, however, Mr. Alexander believes the property can be made to pay dividends and he and his associates are working under a bond, lease and option arrangement.

MINERS FOUNDRY SHIPS MOTORS TO ARIZONA

Recently an order was recieved at the Miner's Foundry of Nevada City from a company in Arizona, ordering some large motors that are now being used in the excavation of an immense meteor, which had been found in that state and of which considerable mention was made some time ago. This company is excavating the meteor with the idea of determining the values of the metals found in it. If is proves rich enough in precious metals it will be mined.

It was at this foundry that the first commercial Pelton wheels, the invention of Mr. Pelton of Camptonville, were built. One of these wheels is still in use at the Murchie mine. The Pelton wheel, with some improvements, is known and used all over the mining districts of the world. The late W. H. Martin purchased the first water wheel sold and it was used at the Mayflower mine in which Mr. Martin was interested and operated.

The Miner's Foundry was first established in 1851 and burned down, the present building was built in 1862. It was originally owned by Messrs. Heugh and Thom, then sold to George G. Allen, and then again to the late William Martin and Mr. Muir. In recent years it has been incorporated into the Miner's Foundry Incorporated.

Through all the years it has been the practice of this foundry to supply nothing but the best and give satisfaction. It is equipped to handle all sorts of machine work and is constantly turning out orders or repairing machinery that would tax machine shops in far larger cities than Nevada City.

MINES TO BE DEVELOPED ON MERCED RIVER

C. J. Lewis came up from Los Angeles recently and went out to his placer mines on the Merced river near Mt. King where he and his partner, Harry Maud, are planning some development work.

The property is known as the "Dan Breen" mine and was worked extensively in early days and much gold taken out.

The story goes that, under the sod and river boulders on this mine, the bodies of two French miners have been lying for 75 of 80 years. Three brothers owned the property and they were getting out a lot of gold, one of them went to Sacramento to take care of the business, purchase supplies and he was gone away from the claim for a month. During his absence other miners noticed that all of the Frenchmen were missing and that the mine had caved in but paid little attention to it, thinking all had gone away for a little vacation.

Upon his return from Sacramento the man was asked about his brothers and he said that they had remained to work the mine. So the tale was told without words and Lewis and Maud are expected to get right in where these Frenchmen lie with their gold-laden belts strapped about their mummefied bodies.

19TH HEALTH ARTICLE IS GIVEN BY DR: CRONWELL

(Article 19 of a series of health articles written by Dr. B. G. Cronwell, chiropractor and food scientist, formerly of San Francisco, now temporarily located in Nevada City, California.)

I hope by this time that most of my readers of last week's article have that little family garden well started or planned out. Try to plant and raise as many things as possible which do not require cooking as we have learned that cooking kills all the food valuation and we are interested in living on foods which will assure a one hundred per cent body. Poor people are learning that they no longer can go on spending their hard earned money for good food and then by fooling with it over a fire or in the oven, absolutely ruin it, let alone the time and fuel wasted. The person who has made a careful study of the food preparation and is right up to the minute, would not think of cooking any of the following vegetables: cabbage, green corn, asparagus, carrots, turnips, green peas, parsnips, summer squash, spinach, black mustard green, dandelions, lettuce, celery, tomatoes, etc. Now add to your choice of foods all the fruits which are always taken in the raw state adding to it some honey and rich raw milk or cream. Most housewives have learned to buy raw milk instead of pasteurized. Babies are put on raw milk, why? because they take milk as a food so if you want to count milk as one of your foods, remember you want raw milk the same as all other animals take it. A great many old fashioned people still think if their meat, boiled potatoes, white bread, pickles, jams jellies, cake and pie were taken away from them that they would not have anything to eat and that they would surely die. To such persons who might chance to read this article, I just want to say, you really have never lived, until you begin to take your foods just as our Creator gave them to us. For every little good taste you think you get from cooking sweetening and seasoning of your foods, you in turn get hours of grief and find yourself depending on others for your daily bread long before you can be considered old. A weakened almost dead body, not worn out, just dying from chemical starvation from trying to live on devitalized stuff which was wonderful food until they or some one else fooled with it.

When you really stop and think how serious is this matter of eating, all the temptations of the sly manufacturer with the big adds, pretty pictures and loud praise luring you to buy his product which only crowds out something of real value from your diet. You can not help but agree with me, when I say to you, that eating is such a dangerous thing, that before they eat some people always pray. Are you doing right when you go on day after day teaching your children to live on, breads, pastry, soups, canned fruits and vegetables, sweets and everything highly seasoned to taste. Can you do that? Knowing that before they reach the age of sixteen their teeth will be decaying and by the time they are in their thirties they will have store teeth. How quick mothers are to stop children from cracking nuts with their teeth. Give them food that will maintain their teeth in a firm hard state and they can crack nuts with them as much as they please and the damage will be slight. Teeth improve with use, and the person cracking nuts with their teeth will be very likely to eat some of the nuts without cooking them and be sure of that much natural food to build teeth and other parts of the body. Keep two or three kinds of fresh ripe fruit on the table in sight where the children can see and be tempted and they should be told to help themselves to the fruit as often as they wish it. If you can influence your children to live entirely on fresh raw fruits so much the better. Their life will be just like one round of pleasure. I have told you before that children who live entirely on raw foods never develop any of the so called contageous diseases. Measels, mumps scarlet fever, etc.

Show me a child that develops small pox, or any other so called disease and I will tell you just what their foods have been the past six months. Show me a family where their finances are so low they can not afford to buy shoes for the children and I will show you that the same family is wasting their money buying, coffee, tea, sugar, lard, butter, jelly, syrups, cookies, crackers, cheese and a dozen other useless articles for hungry children. The more of these things they consume the louder the hunger cry, for the natural foods to replenish the blood stream, to biuld a strong healthy body.

Question—What is the cause of a lame tired back? I wake up in the night with such a back ache I can hardly turn over or get out of bed.

Mrs. N.—There are a good many reasons for a condition like yours. First those are the first symptoms of rheumatism. The settling of the toxins in the muscle tissues resulting in soreness and stiff tissue adjacent to joints with considerable movement. Nerve interference which is slowing down the supply of nerve energy to some of the vital organs and a wrong combination of foods is the only cause.

Question—What is the cause of swollen feet. My feet swell during the night and I can not get my shoes on, until late in the day. Mrs. F.

Mrs. F.—Poor circulation of the blood caused by the weakening and breaking down of the muscles in the walls of the blood vessels, which carry the blood up and down the legs. Some times the kidneys are not working as they should and they are not taking the excess amount of water out of the blood stream and the body becomes puffy especially the lower limbs. A few good adjustings to the kidney region and a little change in foods should show quick relief.

PROTECTING DOLLARS AT WORK

IN EVERY PART of California, Bank of America has dollars at work—in the form of loans to industry, agriculture, responsible individuals. . . . . .

These loans are widely diversified in every sound major business activity of the state. . . . . .

Never more than a small portion of our total deposits is loaned to any one industry, crop or section. . .

Thus, in a very real sense, the strength of California—its diversity of climate, crops, business—is an added safeguard for Bank of America's statewide loans.

And this Bank has unexcelled facilities to protect its dollars at work: banking offices in 243 communities, serving the entire state; intimate knowledge of local conditions; the resources of each branch reinforced by the resources of our entire organization. . . . . .

GOVERNOR ROLPH PROCLAIMS APRIL 6TH ARMY DAY IN CALIF

Proclaiming April 6, 1932 Army Day, Governor James Rolph, Jr., recently called on all citizens of the state of California to observe the day with a statewide display of the national flag, and the conduct of partiotic exercises having for their aim an expression of esteem and admiration for the United States army.

Military ceremonies, exhibitions and demonstrations will be held at the Presidios of San Francisco and Monterey, Mather, March and Rockwell fields at Sacramento, Riverside and San Diego, respectively, and at Fort MacArthur, San Pedro, and Fort Rorecrans, San Diego, to which the public is invited. At many of the posts "open house" will be held by the army and an opportunity given to those attending to look over a typical army barracks, and secure first hand information as to how their army lives.

Governor Rolph's complete proclamation follows:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT
State of California
PROCLAMATION

The army of the United States has a most glorious record which is the proud heritage of the American people. Its history is filled with distinguished and honorable achievements. Its loyalty, courage and efficiency are known and admired the world over. Though small in comparison with the large armies of many modern nations, our army has always efficiently conquered any task confronting it. Its deed in war from that day at Lexington which culminated in the birth of our republic, to the hard fought battles in France, are well known to all citizens of the land, and it has fought always and everywhere in defense of principles and rights, never merely for territory and power.

Renowned as its record in war has always been, its record in peaces as a factor in the development of the nation is no less worthy. It conducted nearly all preliminary explorations in the early days of our history. It was the expedition of Captain Lewis and Lieutenant Clark that gave us our first knowledge of our great west. Others of the army followed them, building bridges, roads, canals and making maps and surveys that were so essential to civilization. The building of the Panama canal, the elimination of yellow fever and malaria must be directly credited to the army. Its activities in the pursuits of peace are many, and now as always, it is ready to serve the nation in wartime and peacetime, loyally, efficiently and if necessary ready to make the supreme sacrafice to guarantee the continuance of all those principles and rights upon which our nation is founded.

In recognition thereof, I, James Rolph, Jr., governor of the state of California, do hereby proclaim Wednesday, April 6, 1932, to be Army Day, at which time all citizens of the state of California are urged to observe this day by a statewide display of the national flag and the conduct of patriotic exercises having for their aim an expression of our esteem and admiration for the United States army, ever glorious in war or in peace.

MARIPOSA COUNTY

It is reported that F. F. Lautenschlager, owner of the Calaska gold mine in the New Years district has recently refused $100,000 down payment on a purchase price of $250,000 for the property offered by a New York firm, through their agent in Modesto.

Mr. Lautenschlager who has operated mines in a number of the western states feels that he has ore blocked out in excess of the sum offered by the New Yorkers.

This property was formerly known as the 50-50 mine also the West Belt and it has produced much gold. It is located on the Big Flat in the New Years district.

Tom and Hugh Rowland have recently installed a Huntington mill at the Princeton mine and are now running through the dump from the old Princeton shaft. They are planning to install another mill on the property in the near future to warrant the operation of the milling plant. They are sinking and drilling on the property.

Three shifts are now working at the Diltz mine on Sherlock Creek and the mill is running continuously on good ore. This is the property in which the strike of rich ore was encountered last winter. The shoot of ore continues and this mine has all the earmarks of making a heavy producer in 1932. E. R. Baker is manager of the property.

The machinery for the Spencer mine on Sherlock Creek has been hauled to the mine and the mill is being set in place. M. Page is in charge of the property. Good ore has been encountered on this ground and already there is a sufficent tonnage on the dump.

NAT'L FOREST GROUNDS HAVE INTERESTING NAMES

Visitors to the 1,252 campgrounds in the 18 national forests of California will find that the Forest Service has preserved the names given these spots by the pioneers and the forty-niners. Among many camp names suggestive of frontier days are Bacon Rind, Bear Heaven, Dog Town, Graveyard, Hell Creek, Hog Pen Springs, Hobo Hot Springs, Murderers Bar, Pie Canyon, Poison Meadow, Toad Wells and Whiskey Creek. Why such names were applied to the beauty spots of the national forests where now the summer visitors find recreation and rest, is usually unknown. Once given, these designations have remained to record some forgotten incident in the early history of the state.

The crying need of the hour is economy, but the only brakes the majority of people know how to apply are automobile brakes.

GOLD PROSPECTS WANTED

This is a sample of the methods being used in the state of Nevada in an effort to develop gold mines and place capital at work in such a manner that it will also employ the idle men, and give employment to many human beings. What better or more worthy endeavor could be made to assist the gold bearing districts?

This is an example to Californians and we of the gold producing counties should do our part to bring about better conditions.

Boost your gold mines. Tell the world that we have the deepest gold mine in the United States and they and planning to sink another 300 feet in this mine, the Empire- North Star. Nevada and Sierra counties today offer splendid opportunities to the investor.

Letson Balliett, mining engineer, director-chairman of the Nevada State Emergency Committee on Employment, stresses the point that ail emergency relief is merely temporary and postponing the real answer to the unemploment situation to the future. "What are we going to do when the emergency methods and relief funds have been exhauste", he asks, "unless we find opportunities for capital where two or more persons can be employed with profit to those who would employ them?"

In referring to the gold mining business, he says "Heretofore it has been difficult to sell gold prospects—and it is yet, when the prospector's exhalted ideas of values cause him to demand prohibitive terms. Capital is always shy about trusting its money to unknown and untried managements, but captial is more willing to send its own management out to explore and develop prospects and to reopen old mines than it has been for many years.

"While this committee cannot undertake to sell stock, nor to promote mining companies, it will undertake to lay properly prepared reports by accredited engineers before capitalists who are able to handle such projects, and it will refer inquiries from capitalist to meritorius prospects. Such assistance is entirely free and without commissions or strings. It is merely an effort to assist in finding opportunities for capital where two or more persons may be employed with profit to those who would employ them."

SIERRA PRECIPITATION IS LARGESTI N YEARS

According to W. A. Simmonds, weather observer of Tahoe City, precipitation for this winter beginning September first was far ahead of any season during the past ten year. Observations taken by Simmonds are as follows: Total snow fall for the season, 298 inches; with rain and snow water content measuring 29.21 inches; average depth of snow on ground, 54 inches. With the lake level 32222.73 feet above the sea, inflowing streams are now barely holding their own against evaporation. A month ago the lake's level was eight hundredths of a foot higher, but cold weather and strong winds in late February caused a lowering.

Mr. Simmonds says that although the lake is now only a fraction over three inches below its rim at the source of the Truckee river, with a surface of 120,000 acres to cover it will take considerable time for melting snow to fill this discrepancy. He expressed his opinion that snow on the water sheds will raise the lake a little over eighteen inches during the coming summer.

NEW COMPANY TO WORK BLACK HAWK

SONORA, March 24.—The Black Hawk mine near Soulsbyville, idle for a quarter of a century, has been acquired by the Organized Gold Mining Company, a recently formed California corporation headed by Col. C. H. Silliman of Los Angeles, from A. P. Irish, a mining man of that city, and its rehabilitation launched under the supervision of the latter as manager. Electric power has been installed and a 25-foot vertical two-compartment shaft. Manager Irish states that the property will be immediately equipped with a 50-ton daily capacity ball mill for the reduction of a large tonnage of ore made available on the 100 and 200 foot level by development work performed at his own expense prior to the closedown in 1907. The orebody, as exposed on the levels named, varies in width from seven inches to three feet, has a proved length of more than 200 feet and averages $35 a ton in gold, Mr. Irish asserts.

The Elmm Mining Company is making a 300-ton mill test run at the McCormick mine, on the Tuolumne River, near Jacksonville, being operated under lease and bond. The ore being reduced was extracted from one of the shoots exposed by the lower or No. 2 tunnel. From the upper or No. 1 tunnel a raise is being run to catch the upward extension of a high-grade orebody revealed about two months ago.

The electric pumps have been installed in the 800-foot incline shaft on the Bellview mine, about eight miles east of Sonora, and are being operated three shifts daily in dewatering the workings, under a 25-year lease held by Fred N. Baylies of Los Angeles and associates. Thus far the water has been lowered to the 500-foot point under the direction of Roy S. Clements, manager.

CUTTING IN EVIL WILL BE SUBJECT OF DRIVE

The dangerous and inconsiderate practice of "cutting in" when passing other cars is the subject of a statewide campaign this month by the California Committee on Public Safety. Through a variety of educational efforts the Committee is seeking to impress motorists with the hazards and lack of courtesy involved by imperilling other cars in passing.

"Cutting In Is A Senseless Sin," is the phrase adopted by the Committee for use in connection with the campaign.

The Legal Department of the California State Automobile Association, which is assisting the Committee, draws attention to provisions of the California Vehicle Act pertaining to the subject. One section of the law reads:

"The driver of a vehicle shall not drive to the left side of the center line of a highway in overtaking and passing another vehicle unless such left side is clearly visible and free of oncoming traffic for a sufficient distance ahead to permit such overtaking and passing to be completely made without interfering with the safe operation of any vehicles approaching, and in every event the overtaking vehicle shall return to the right-hand side of the highway before coming within one hundred feet of any vehicle approaching from the opposite direction."

THE HISTORY OF OLD GOLD CENTER

YUBA RIVER CANYON COUNTRY

One of the most interesting of the early California day mining camps was North San Juan, which is situated in the Yuba river canyon country about sixteen miles north of Nevada City on the Downieville highway. Leaving Grass Valley-Nevada City the road runs along a high shelf, looking down into Deer Creek canyon where the great dumps of granite and quartz, that were taken from the old Champion group, glisten white in the sunlight while all around is the dark green of the beautiful pine forest.

After one of the rare long straight stretches of the highway has been left behind the motorist drops down a gradual grade running alongside Rock creek, where miners of the 50's and 60's obtained vast sums of gold. They traveled to their claims along this creek on foot or astride a mule. How amazed they would be to see automobile whizzing along the same routs today.

A short distance along Rock creek takes a plunge over a rocky shelf and a few moments later it is down in the bottom of a canyon far below the highway. From here the first glimpse of the canyon of the South Fork of the Yuba river is obtained and now the road begins to drop down the canyon side to a massive concrete bridge which spans the stream amid scores of huge granite boulders that in the course of thousands of years have been tumbled down into the river bed and washed almost white by the swirling waters.

As the road climbs out on the opposite side of the canyon it quickly rises above the stream until the motorist can, by watching, look down upon what remains of Jones' Bar, far below. Here the river widens out into a small valley and nearly all of this was turned up side down by the early miners, as the millions of boulders piled upon one another show. The early stage road which carried the gold that came out of the early day San Juan hydraulic mines between the Ridge and Nevada City, crossed over a wooden bridge at this point and the weed covered winding road bed is still visible below the highway. A marvelous view down the twisting canyon is now obtained and a few minutes later the motorist finds himself up on top of the famous San Juan ridge, one of the greatest hydraulic mining centers of all times.

Here the road dips a trifle into the small valley formed by Shady creek, with its hydraulic slickings, which it crosses and then continues northward toward Sweetland. Shortly after the intersection of the road of North Columbia is passed the motorist will cross over one of the old hydraulic pipes that carried the tremendous quantities of water used in some of the hydraulic mines below this point.

Shooting down another long stretch between walls of pine trees, Sweetland is reached. From here the road leads east down the ridge to French Corral. Continuing up the highway a typical miner's cabin, that can be easily photographed, is passed along side the road. Beyond, during the late spring months, one of the most profuse growths of Scotch broom, with its bright yellow blooms, that can be found anywhere thrills the beholder. For approximately two miles the whole country side is a blazen yellow.

Just before entering North San Juan the road side store of Henry Huckins is encountered and here at the base of a mammoth willow tree flows a big spring of cold sparkling water. Various powers have been attributed to it and legend has it that hunters, and fishermen homeward bound always fill their jugs at this point. Mr. Huckins, whose father was one of the early constables of this region, can give further particulars and can speak entertainingly of early historical happenings. He can also point out to those interested a telephone line which is still standing after more than a century It is the first long distant telephone system ever constructed and it is the oldest standing line in the world. Its square, red cedar poles, blue glass insulators and its single strand of heavy iron wire make it a unique sight not to be forgotten.

The San Juan Ridge lies between the middle and the south forks of the Yuba river—the richest historically of all the canyon walled ridges in California! For half a century its six mile wide backbone has been drousing in the summer sun and presenting its rugged profile to the winter storms. It is as if its Herculean endeavors during the preceding three decades had left it utterly exhausted. Even today, after fifty years of idleness, its surface is still covered with vivid scars of mammoth dimensions although nature has vainly tried to heal them with growths of tall pine forests. But grow as they might, the multi-colored gold bearing gravel cliffs dwarf the trees until they seem as mere bushes. These gigantic excavations—pinnacled canyons in truth— remain as monuments to the men who feared no hazards, stopped at no obstacles,—a selected group of human beings, who, finding mountains in their path—moved those mountains! The peach orchards of the Sacramento valley today grow on the silt that three quarters of a century ago constituted the seemingly impregnable mountain tops of the Sierra chain.

The San Juan ridge is a storehouse of fascinating memories. It was there that electric power was for the first time carried down a wire from a water-driven dynamo; that the time honored method of drilling holes into rock by hand for the first time gave way to the air drill—those early cumbersome Burleigh air drills; that the electric arc light first shed its beams in the field of industrial endeavor; that western men built the world's first long distance telephone line. And they not only were the first to utilize the inventions of others—they were continuously inventing shortcuts of their own—reaching an objective in one step where others meandered all over the premises. Highly elated was the engineer who built a tunnel in from each end—and found only a slight descrepancy when both faces met somewhere near the center. But Hamilton Smith, who later became one of the most eminent engineers of the globe, wished to run the mile and a half long Malakoff tunnel in the shortest possible time. So he sank six shafts down onto the line of the tunnel. Working each way from every shaft and coming in from both ends work progressed at a tremendous rate of speed along the 12 faces—and when they met, the line was found to be prefect. Thus modern tunnel technic first saw the light of day among the hydraulic mines of the Ridge.

And the main-spring was gold—GOLD! In the seventies, although million dollar corporations were rare elsewhere, they were commonplace here. They built huge rockfilled dams and created vast reservoirs in the fastnesses of the highest mountains; hundreds of miles of great ditches and flumes that brought the waters down from the upper reaches to the many hydraulic mines—built with a pick and shovel and carpenter's level to such a state of perfection that modern engineers with all of their instructions cannot improve on their alignment. The Wells Fargo treasure box of nearly every thoroughbraced stage running from the towns of the Ridge—North San Juan, North Columbia, North Bloomfield, Mores Flat, Sweetland, Birchville, French Corral,—to the Nevada county narrow gauge railroad depot at Nevada City carried its cargo of gold. Weighty "presidents" and "secretaries" came up from San Francisco with their gold headed canes and frock coats to seriously confer with their "superintendents" at the mines—to stand by the hour and watch the bee hives of activity, and to pick up and admire the fifty and sixty pound gold bars before they were shipped to the mint. And almost overnight all of this was terminated by the passage of the federal anti-debris act.

The Ridge is still a storehouse of gold—as well as memories. And someday the hydraulic mines will again be in full sway—but this time behind restraining dams that will prevent the debris from filling up the Sacramento valley. Today's tourist, however, sixteen short and picturesque miles from Nevada City will marvel at the indestructible beauty of these dormant mines—from which enough gold bearing gravel has been removed to fill the Panama canal several times over.

Next week's bulletin will describe the trip from Nevada City to North Bloomfield, then past the greatest of all hydraulic mines—the Malakoff, through the old mining camp of Lake City—cross country to North Columbia Hill; past more hydraulic mines to North San Juan and return to Nevada City. A trip worthy of a summer vacation but which can be made in a day.

FRENCH CORRAL

FRENCH CORRAL, March 23,— While yesterday gave every indication of more storms, as yet this section has weather cold and clear.

Last Sunday we were treated to a severe electric strom. From what we learn, this storm must have centered the extreme of its intensity in the little town of Birchville where large hailstones fell, and it was almost a deluge. A neighbor stated that two and a half inches of rain fell at that time. For awhile it seemed that what was spared from last summer's distastrous fire, was to be swept away by water.

Let's see, who have been visitors during the past week—

Mr. Grant, the "Rawleigh man" made a business trip through this section last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Culver went to Pleasant Valley Friday to visit Mrs. N. Hartung who has been ill.

Arthur O'Connor who teaches in San Rafael, came up Saturday to spend Easter week at his home in Birchville.

Mr. and Mrs. Benton Wilcoxon of Drum Power House and their son, Benny, Jr., who is home from Stanford for his Easter vacation, spent Saturday at the home of Mr. Wilcoxon's mother, Mrs. J. W. Culver.

Mrs. F. Reader and daughters, Misses Ursula and Esther, were visitors from Sweetland Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. L. Franciscovitch and son, Clyde Bishop, of Marysville were visitors from Marysville Sunday. They were accompanied by Edward Jarvin.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Fisher of Yuba City were Sunday visitors. Mr. Fisher is a native of French Corral and all his youthful days were spent here

Mr and Mrs. J. W. Culver made a trip to Tyler Sunday to visit with relatives.

Miss Virginia Day of Nevada City is visiting with friends in French Corral.

The members of Columbia Parlor, No. 70, held a meeting Tuesday to close the adjourned meeting of Mar. 4th.

Mrs. Elsie Schwartz who now resides in Grass Valley made a trip to be in attendance at this meeting, also Mrs. A. Kneebone of Bridgeport.

Mrs. Lloyd Dudley of Nevada City visited her parents in French Corral Tuesday. We are glad to learn that Mr. Dudley who recently underwent a serious operation is rapidly improving, and can now give part of the day to his work in the bank of America, where he holds an important position.

Mrs. Clara Weeks, supervisor of Rural schools, paid a visit to the French Corral school Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Marden and Mr. and Mrs. M P Williams of Oroville paid a visit to friends in this place Tuesday Mr. Williams is a native of French Corral and Mr. Mardon came here with his parents when a little child, and both men spent all their early life here where they attended school and grew to manhood. They find great pleasure in their frequent visits to the old home place, where old friends welcome them.

The many old timer friends and school mates of Dr. Henry Powell of Haywards will be grieved to learn of his death March 18th. He was a native of Birchville and moved to Haywards with his parents in his childhood. After college days he took up the profession of dentistry and successfully practiced his profession until the past year when he fell a victim of a lingering disease. He was of a happy, cheerful disposition and altho all medical help seemed unavailing he kept up his spirit of hopefulness to the last. He and his wife made several visits to this place and his native town of Birchville and made many new friends, as well as renewing the friendship of the old friends at those towns. We extend our deepest sympathy to his wife and also to his brother, Dr. A. J. Powell.

Joseph Swazey, who has been employed at the Boss Mine was called to Nevada City Tuesday on account of the illness of his wife.

SAFETY COMMITTEE IS TO MEET AT SANTA CRUZ

Prompted by the increase in traffic deaths and injuries last year, a joint convention to discuss the problem will be held by the California Committee on Public Safety and the Municipal Traffic League of California at Santa Cruz May 5 to 7. These groups have heretofore held their own separate annual conventions. The leaders of the organizations have decided to meet jointly this year for the purpose of determining what measures can be taken to improve the traffic accident situation.

Senator Arthur H. Breed of Oakland, president pro tem of the State Senate and a director of the California State Automobile Association, is chairman of the Committee on Public Safety. Charles F. Todd, a former supervisor of San Francisco, is president of the traffic league.

The Santa Cruz gathering will bring together leading officials and traffic experts from all parts of the state. The two organizations consist of state, county, and municipal officials, and representatives of organized motorists and other groups concerned with the traffic problem.

In 1931 the number of persons injured in traffic accidents in California was 48,077. Many were maimed for life and 2,591 deaths resulted. This was an increase of 16.6 per cent over 1930 in the number of injured and an increase of 8.7 per cent in fatalities. The increase in accidents was 12.9 per cent.

SPECIAL EASTER DANCE AT DOWNIEVILLE

A big special Easter dance is scheduled at Downieville for this Saturday, March 27th. The music will be a real treat by Ted White's Rhythm Kings of Portland, Oregon, who made such a hit at Joyland, Grass Valley, two weeks ago. There will be several features including moonlight waltzes, and a prize waltz and fox trot contest. All in all it will be one big night in Downieville long to be remembered, with supper at midnite, red lemonade n'everything.

Elks Plan Dance—

Meyers Mobley, chairman of the Elks committee, which is to have the benefit dance April 9th, has all his plans mapped out. It will be held in the Elks hall and will be for Elks, and their wives, or their lady friends, if they haven't wives, and members of their families. An orchestra has been engaged and all are promised a splendid time. The proceeds from the dance will be used to purchase uniforms for the high school band.

SOCIAL NOTES OF WEEK

Mrs. Leiter Entertain—

Mrs. C. W. Leiter entertained the Wednesday Bridge Club at her pretty home on Broad Street. This club is composed of sixteen ladies of Grass Valley and Nevada City. Small tables were attractively decorated with St. Patrick's favors and beautiful sprays of Japonica.

Mrs. John Darke Entertains—

Mrs. John Darke most delightfully entertained the past presidents of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, at her pretty home Friday evening. There were thirty members present from Grass Valley and Nevada City. After a business session the members enjoyed cards for several hours. Dainty refreshments were served at a late hours.

Mrs. Scadden Entertains—

Mrs. P. G. Scadden entertained members of the Birthday Club in her pretty home Saturday afternoon in the celebration of her birthday. There were twelve present to enjoy the happy event. Mrs. W. H. Moore, daughter of Mrs. Scadden, came up from Pittsburgh for the occasion and to spend Easter vacation here with her parents. Luncheon was served at a prettily appointed table which was decorated with spring blossoms.

has always been the consideration in purchasing, and rightly, too.
No one likes to spend money. I am willing to exchange money for something which will render greater satisfaction than the possession of money itself.
No matter how cheap the price, satisfaction can never be secured by an inferior thing, be it a play, a motor or a memorial. The price paid for disappointment is excessive no matter how little the initial cost of it.
The price of MEMORIALS which bring enduring satisfaction to the purchaser is low, even if the investment may be greater than anticipated. The Nevada City Monumental Works is offering you the highest standard of workmanship and material at lowest possible prices. Many people are confused about Marble and Granite. All marble is only a cheap substitute for Granite and it lasts only one-twentieth as long as granite.
We have two kinds of very hard and durable Nevada County Granite on hand. If you like the county in which you are living, why not patronize its products in preference to shipped in stuff which naturally costs more, but is inferior to our own granite.
After three years of sickness I am with you again, friends, and trying to build up a new Nevada County industry. Wouldn't you help by asking for Nevada County granite when in the market for any cemetery work? With pleasure will I show you samples of this granite and hundreds of new dseigns of Monuments and Markers in prices to suit any pocketbook. Satisfaction guaranteed. See
